MISCELLANEOUS

- During the qualification period, if you're in a hierarchy that doesn't allow downline producers to receive incentive trips and at some point you leave that hierarchy to a hierarchy that allows for incentive trips, incentive credits earned under the old hierarchy don't move with you. Only production credits earned under the new hierarchy count toward a Mutual Sales Leaders qualification.
- Mutual of Omaha reserves the right to change, limit or cancel any program, rule or award at any time. Production credit may be excluded or adjusted as required by any applicable laws or regulations.
- You must be in good standing with Mutual of Omaha's Brokerage Field Relations at the time of the award.
- If the producer's average monthly lapse rate from January to November 2025 is above 2%, they would not qualify for this trip.
- Confidential or proprietary information, as defined in your sales agreement, doesn't include information relating to any incentive travel award.
- You're responsible for any compensation disclosure obligations you may have governing relationships with your clients.
- Although eligibility for an invitation is based on production requirements during 2025, the invitation will be provided during 2026. The cost of the incentive travel is reported to you as taxable income on IRS Form 1099. Cost includes air travel, lodging, gifts and any cash or cash spending allowances, if applicable.
- You may not delay the incentive travel.
- You may only qualify for one incentive trip per calendar year. For instance, if you qualify for Mutual Sales Leaders and Circle of Excellence, you're required to decide which invitation to accept.
